

L. A. TIMES, LAWRENCE CHRISTON

“In ARE YOU SURE? at the Back Alley Theater, Sam Bobrick has used his considerable experience and dexterity as a playwright to thread the lines between the indefinite categories of reality and fantasy, gamesmanship and seriousness, even between theater and fact.”

“... a play in the purest sense of the word.”

L. A. WEEKLY, ANNE HASKINS

“A clever and literate theatrical Rubic’s cube...”

ARE YOU SURE ?

"... tour de force performances..."

"... devious jigsaw puzzle..."

DRAMA-LOGUE, POLLY WARFIELD

"... A Chinese ring trick..."

"... this could be a hit..."

"... fantastical phantasmagoria..."

HOLLYWOOD REPORTER, LAURA HITCHCOCK

"Half the fun in Sam Bobrick's mystery comedy ARE YOU SURE?, is figuring out what the mystery is. Like Dungeons and Dragons, you can pretty well design your own game."

"Alan Miller's direction is straight-forward and sly."

"... a lucidly crafted play..."

HERALD EXAMINER, DON SHIRLEY

"... an intriguing evening at the Back Alley..."

"... The cast adapts readily to the quicksilver texture of the play..."

"Director Allan Miller leads the whole cast through its paces with a light touch..."

"... crazily, cleverly askew."
