Dear Glen:

Here are the terms for the added performance of A WOMAN OF INDEPENDENT MEANS as I understand them:

You'll get your usual 6 comps, and will be able to buy 40 seats at the usual box office price of $10 a seat. The theatre will have the remainder of the seats to sell. Any tickets you don't want to use will be released Friday morning, the 24th of March for the March 27th performance.
Curtain will be 8:30 pm. The theatre will assume increased crew costs, but will not increase Barbara's salary.

Let me know if I got anything wrong-- I don't know about you, but our tickets are already gone...

Talk to you soon.

All best,
