As you might know, the Back Alley Theatre has been presenting a workshop production of Elizabeth Forsythe Hailey's A WOMAN OF INDEPENDENT MEANS starring Barbara Rush. Due to the unprecedented response, we are extending this engagement through the end of January-- and while it is still a work in progress and there will be minor revisions before the show goes on tour and ultimately to New York-- we feel that you would enjoy seeing the production in its present form.

We suggest you call the theatre (780-2240) anytime after noon and we will be happy to reserve tickets for your choice of the following performances:

Friday

Friday, December 9th at 8 pm.

Saturday, December 10th at 3:30 pm.

Monday, December 12th at 8 pm.

Due to the theatre's limited seating capacity, we would appreciate hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Laura Zucker & Allan Miller
