"The effect of fear on honorable people has never been better illustrated. Under such pressure, would any of us have done better? When persecution passes for patriotism, it's time to watch out.... Are You Now should be performed once every 10 years — as a reminder." Los Angeles Times

"This play is one of the most important civil libertarian documents to come from the American theater, and one of the few straightforwardly political plays that absolutely works as pure entertainment.... Are You Now is far more frightening a vision, for its being and having been fact, than any 1984 Orwellian fantasies." L.A. Weekly
