Re: Gloria Duplex - Music from Seattle Production

Here is a copy of everything we recorded from our production. I hope it is of some use. The band played by ear and by head arrangements after the first few rehearsals, so the accompaning charts are by no means complete or in any way what we finally played, but may help expedite putting together some of the gospel pieces.

Everything is in public domain except:

- "When the Light Shone From the Master's Eyes" by Van Morrison
- "Talk to Your Daughter" by John Lee Hooker
(You might be covered for this if you have an agreement with ASCAP and BMI for use of material they control for public performance. The Empty Space did not to my knowledge pay royalties)
- Incidental Music: "Taiwan G-strings", "Holy Sparks", "Rowdy Tonight", "Lu Gremillion", "Good Time", and "End of Chihuahuas" by Jim Ragland and the Kitten Paradise Playboys.

I assume you will choose to come up with your own little stings and such, but if you do want to use the guitar solo piece underscoring Holy Sparks please contact me.

Best of luck with the production. We had a great time and I trust you will too.

Regards,
